EDA Equality and Diversity Policy

Introduction

EDA College (EDA) is committed to ensuring the provision of equal opportunities to all employees and students. We endeavour to create an environment where we respect all, learn from our differences, value diversity, and actively champion cohesiveness throughout the College.

We believe that all forms of prejudice and discrimination are unacceptable and will strive to tackle these and remove conditions that place specific people or groups of people at a disadvantage.

At EDA, we celebrate diversity and we are committed to advancing equality of opportunity, regardless of age, disability, gender or gender identity, race, religion or belief, sexual orientation, social background and family responsibilities.

EDA aims to provide an environment where diversity is the norm, bullying, harassment, and discrimination are eradicated and people are prepared to live and work in a multi-ethnic, multi-faith, multi-lingual society

Especially EDA strives to:

- Encourage the participation of students of all abilities
- Provide a safe and welcoming environment for all
- Develop its facilities and courses to improve access and widen participation
- Offer support to meet individual student and employee needs
- Ensure its recruitment processes for both staff and students are fair and transparent
- Ensure that the College is an environment that is free from discrimination, bullying or harassment

This Policy operates within the context of the Equality Act 2010, which was introduced to streamline, simplify, and strengthen equality legislation through a single Act, and replaces previous legislation.

This policy needs to be read in conjunction with the Colleges:

- Bullying and Harassment Policy

- E-safety Policy
- Non-Academic Misconduct policy

Scope

This is an overarching policy on equality and diversity that applies across all areas of the College, including employment, teaching, learning, procurement and marketing and admissions. This policy should not be read in isolation but cross-referenced with all associated policies, procedures, and practices, as listed above.

The College will operate within the legislative framework of the Equality Act 2010. This policy applies to all team members, temporary staff from employment agencies, contractors, visitors, employers, and students. The College views discrimination against any student or team member on any grounds as a serious disciplinary offence.

The College will not tolerate any forms of discrimination based upon:

- Direct discrimination
- Indirect discrimination
- Associative discrimination
- Perceptive discrimination
- Harassment

The College will pro-actively promote equality and diversity. It will ensure our students and staff have an understanding and appreciation of the diversity and difference that goes to make up the society in which we live and work.

Definitions

- Protected characteristics are the grounds upon which discrimination is unlawful. Direct Discrimination occurs when someone is treated less favourably than another person because of a protected characteristic they have.
- Associative Discrimination already applies to race, religion or belief and sexual orientation. This is now extended to cover age, disability, gender reassignment and sex. It occurs when you treat people less favourably because they are associated with someone who has a protected characteristic (other than pregnancy and maternity).
- Perceptive Discrimination already applies to age, race, religion or belief and sexual orientation. This is now extended to cover disability, gender reassignment and sex. It means direct discrimination occurs against an individual because others think they have a protected characteristic. It applies even if the person does not possess that characteristic.

- Indirect Discrimination already applies to age, race, religion or belief, sex, sexual orientation and marriage and civil partnership. This is now extended to cover disability and gender reassignment. Indirect discrimination can occur when the College has a condition, criteria rule, or policy that applies to everyone but particularly disadvantages people who share a protected characteristic. It does not matter if it was unintentional, it matters if your action disadvantages a person compared with a person who does not share that characteristic.

- Harassment is unwanted conduct related to a relevant protected characteristic, which has the purpose or effect of violating an individual's dignity or creating an intimidating, hostile, degrading, humiliating or offensive environment for that individual. Harassment applies to all protected characteristics except for pregnancy, maternity, marriage, and civil partnership. Team members will be able to complain of behaviour they find offensive – even if it is not directed at them. Team members do not need to possess the relevant characteristic themselves and are protected from harassment because of perception and association.
- Third Party Harassment occurs already applies to sex and is now extended to cover age, disability, gender reassignment, race, religion or belief and sexual orientation. The Equality Act makes the College potentially liable for harassment of team members and students by people (third parties) such as clients or customers and contractors of the employer/provider.

For an employer to be liable:

- the harassment must have occurred on at least two previous occasions (although not necessarily by the same harasser or suffering the same type of harassment).
 - it must be aware that the previous harassment has taken place, and
 - it must have failed to take reasonable steps to prevent harassment from happening again.
- Victimisation occurs when a team member is treated badly because they have made or supported a complaint or raised a grievance under the Equality Act, or because they are suspected of doing so. If you treat a person less favourable, because of this then this will be classed as unlawful victimisation.

A 'protected act' is:

- making a claim or complaint of discrimination (under the Equality Act).
- Helping someone else to claim by giving evidence or information.
- Alleging that you or someone else has breached the Act.
- Doing anything else in connection with the Act.

Failure to make reasonable adjustments happens when the College fails to make reasonable adjustments for a disabled person, to avoid the disabled person being placed at a substantial disadvantage when compared to a non-disabled person.
